Title:BETTELHEIM: A LIFE AND A LEGACY

Author(s):SUTTON, NINA

Narrator(s):JEROME BROOKMAN

In his lifetime (1903-1990), Bruno Bettelheim was regarded as an authority on childrearing and a pioneer of psychoanalysis. His prolific writings ranged from his experiences as a survivor of Nazi concentration camps to the Freudian interpretation of fairy tales. During his 29 years as director of the University of Chicago's Orthogenic School, Bettelheim developed a unique form of milieu therapy, claiming a high rate of success with emotionally disturbed and autistic children. After his suicide, former students denounced him as brutal, and critics accused him of plagiarism, questioning his training and qualifications. In this first biography, Sutton, a journalist and French correspondent for National Public Radio, assesses the life and work of this contradictory genius. © 1996

Title:DIVING ROCK ON THE HUDSON

Author(s):ROTH, HENRY

Narrator(s):CHRIS BASKOUS

In this second volume of the series, Mercy of a Rude Stream, Roth reveals a secret that was surely one of the reasons for his 60-year writing block. Here, his alter ego, Ira Stigman, makes a shocking disclosure: a long interval of incest with his younger sister, as well as the seduction of a younger cousin. As the author/narrator continues to bare his soul to his computer, Ecclesiastes, readers can begin to understand the remorse, guilt and mental anguish that for a long time prevented Roth from thinking or writing about the events that form the basis for his fiction. He also gives a haunting description of a vanished social class, the first generation of American children of Jewish immigrants from European shtetls, living in bleak tenements, aware they are crude and uncouth by the standards of American society. © 1995

Title:SPORTS AND THE AMERICAN JEW

Author(s):RIESS, STEVEN A., ED.

Narrator(s):TINA CERVASI, HELEN SCHNEIDER

This book debunks the conventional stereotype that Jews and sports are somehow incompatible and clearly demonstrates that sports have long been a significant institution in American Jewish life. Jews were among the very first professional baseball players and the most outstanding early American track stars. In the 1920s and 1930s, they dominated inner-city sports and produced star athletes in virtually all sports. Many Jews were also prominent in the business, communications, and literary aspects of sports. © 1998

Title:1185 PARK AVENUE: A MEMOIR

Author(s):ROIPHE, ANNE

Narrator(s):LESLIE CARROLL, BARBARA ABIS

In this captivating memoir, novelist Anne Roiphe shows us what it was really like to grow up rich and Jewish in New York in the 1940s and 1950s. Revisiting the world of her childhood, Roiphe brings alive a cast of characters who are both difficult to love and impossible to forget. Through the eyes of this precocious, loving daughter, we witness the brutalities that lurked behind the mah-jongg tables, cocktail parties, and summer houses of her family. By turns heartbreaking, funny, and mercilessly honest, Roiphe's story exposes the fault lines of misery that exploded in the domestic battles of the home front, far overshadowing the war overseas. © 1999

Title:ROOKIE COP: DEEP UNDERCOVER IN THE JEWISH DEFENSE LEAGUE

Author(s):ROSENTHAL, RICHARD

Narrator(s):AUDREY FLAMBERG

in the summer of 1970, an untrained police recruit was secretly assigned by the NYPD to infiltrate an up and coming urban terrorist organization led by a charismatic rabbi whose impact would be felt around the world. For the next year, Rosenthal advanced through the ranks of the Jewish Defense League from its early days of street intimidation, through the manufacture of incendiary weapons, bombings, and appointment as a firearms instructor and ultimately a bodyguard to Rabbi Meir Kahane, its leader. With a diverse cast of characters, including Joe Colombo, the Ku Klux Klan, and the Soviet Mission to the United States, this story of a young spy on a dangerous assignment may be one of the wackiest police stories ever told. © 2000

Title:JEWS OF FRANCE: A HISTORY FROM ANTIQUITY TO THE PRESENT

Author(s):BENBASSA, ESTHER

Narrator(s):EILEEN DACEY

In the first English-language edition of a general, synthetic history of French Jewry, Esther Benbassa tells the intriguing tale of the social, economic, and cultural vicissitudes of a people in diaspora. She reveals the diversity of Jewish life throughout France's regions, while showing how Jewish identity has constantly redefined itself in a country known for both the Rights of Man and the Dreyfus Affair. Beginning with late antiquity, she charts the migration of Jews into France and traces their fortunes through the making of the French kingdom, the Revolution, the rise of modern anti-Semitism, and the current renewal of interest in Judaism.

Title:LIKE NEVER BEFORE

Author(s):HVAZELET, EHUD

Narrator(s):SHIRLEY KALB

A young boy in World War II is compelled to make a terrible choice: Abandon his brother and save himself, or reveal his identity and face certain capture by the Nazis. A woman is visited by New York City detectives, who tell her a murder has been committed directly across from her apartment, and finds her marriage irreparably changed by the news. An elderly man, on the last night of his life, discovers his kitchen has been invaded by raucous, hungry ghosts. At the center of these stories is David, a man poised at midcareer and at the cusp of midlife, torn by his break with his Orthodox Jewish past, achingly uncertain of the future. A moving, often funny portrait of three generations of a family straining to hold together in the face of changing cultures and shifting fortunes. © 1998

Title:CITY OF GOD

Author(s):DOCTOROW, E. L.

Narrator(s):PETER JONES

In his workbook, a New York City novelist records the contents of his teeming brain. But now he has a story which he thinks may become his next novel: The large brass cross that hung behind the altar of St. Timothy's church in lower Manhattan has disappeared...and even more mysteriously reappeared on the roof of the Synagogue for Evolutionary Judaism, on the Upper West Side. The church rector and the young woman rabbi are trying to learn who committed this strange double act of desecration and why. Befriending them, the novelist finds that their struggles with their respective traditions are relevant to the case and as he joins the clerics in pursuit of the mystery, it broadens to implicate a large cast of characters. © 2000

Title:LOVES OF JUDITH

Author(s):SHALEV, MEIR

Narrator(s):HELEN SCHNEIDER

When Judith arrives in a small agricultural village in Palestine after World War II, she is the center of everyone's attention, especially Moshe, a widowed farmer obsessed with his dead wife; Globberman, a coarse cattle dealer who loves women, money and meat; and Jacob, a farmer who gives up his beautiful wife to raise canaries and woo Judith. For ten years the three men strive to win Judith's exclusive love, but she will not agree to marry any one of them. In her eleventh year in the village, she gives birth to a son who looks like all three men. All three consider Zayde their son, and all three participate in raising him. This tale is told many years later by an adult Zayde as he learns the details of his mother's life over meals prepared for him by Jacob. © 1999

Title:WANDERING JEWS: THE CLASSIC
PORTRAIT OF A VANISHED PEOPLE

Author(s):ROTH, JOSEPH

Narrator(s):EILEEN DACEY

In this masterpiece of Jewish identity, finally translated into English more than 70 years after it was first written, novelist Joseph Roth examines the concept of Jewish identity years before the onset of National Socialism and looks ahead with apprehension to Germany's future. Emotionally ravaged by the whirlwind events of Weimar Germany, he dared to write about the historical schism between Eastern and Western Jews, warning of the false comforts of materialism and assimilation and urging his fellow Jews to embrace their heritage and the land of Palestine as a nascent Jewish homeland. The Wandering Jews serves as an historical and journalistic document to the European Jewish experience as a critical juncture of world history. © 2000

Author(s):LAW, J. PATRICK

Narrator(s):AMANDA MOULSON

When Ben Poltarek, a young Washington lawyer and brilliant amateur magician, opens his door to Tarnofsky, a dying secret agent whispering incomprehensible secrets, his life is changed forever. Ben is unexpectedly propelled into the secret underground of the "Assistants," American Jews who placed their skills - and their lives - in the service of Israel. The territory is unfamiliar and the stakes, life or death. Pursued by Arab terrorists out to silence him, manipulated by agents of the Mossad, and targeted by his own government, only Ben and his magic can save the Middle East from spiraling into flames and bringing the United States down with it. © 2000

Title:AVENGERS: A JEWISH WAR STORY

Author(s):COHEN, RICH

Narrator(s):NOAH WATERMAN

In 1944, a band of Jewish guerillas emerged from the Baltic forest to join the Russian army in its attack on Vilna, the capital of Lithuania. The band, called the Avengers, was led by Abba Kovner, a young poet. In the ghetto, Abba had built bombs, sn eaking out through the city's sewer tunnels to sabotage German outposts. After the liquidation of the ghetto, the Avengers escaped to the forest where they lived for more than a year, fighting alongside other partisan groups, and ultimately bombing t he city they loved, in order to pave the way for its liberation. The story of what happened to these rebels in the ghetto and in the forest eventually segues to how, fighting for the State of Israel, they moved beyond the violence of the Holocaust an d made new lives. © 2000

Title:WEDDING: A FAMILY'S COMING OUT STORY

Author(s):WYTHER, DOUGLAS; MERLING, ANDREW ET AL

Narrator(s):MARTHA MOHR

Two people meet and fall in love. Over time, their relationship grows and they decide to spend the rest of their lives together. They plan a wedding with family and friends on hand as witnesses to solemn but beautiful vows. It's an occasion people dream about for most of their lives, even though it is often joked that the wedding is more for the parents than the children. But what if they're gay? The first book to speak to both sides of a controversy that is altering our society, this chronicle follows Doug, Andrew, and his parents Sheldon and Roslyn on the rocky road from engagement to understanding. Their four distinct voices blend to create a unique depiction of one family coming to grips with the reality of being a gay couple in today's world. © 2000

Title:RUMOR ABOUT THE JEWS: REFLECTIONS ON ANTISEMITISM & THE PROTOCOLS OF THE ELDERS OF ZIO

Author(s):BRONNER, STEPHEN ERIC

Narrator(s):MARK YOHALEM

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion was a forgery created in Russia by the czarist secret police and quickly translated into a host of languages. It portrayed Judaism as a worldwide conspiracy dedicated to the destruction of Christian civilization. The appearance of the Protocols sparked numerous pogroms and helped shape the thinking of right-wing movements, from Hitler's Nazis to contemporary antisemitic groups in Russia, the Middle East, and the United States. A work of intellectual history, A Rumor About the Jews expresses the connection between antisemitism and the overarching political assault upon the enlightenment legacy and provides a new and penetrating understanding of an insidious ideology and its broader implications. © 2000

Title:GENESIS OF JUSTICE: TEN STORIES OF BIBLICAL INJUSTICE

Author(s):DERSHOWITZ, ALAN M.

Narrator(s):TONY MEEKER

Violence, lust, deception, murder, incest, and vengeance; these are the subjects of the biggest - and perhaps the juiciest - bestseller of all time, the Book of Genesis. Its tales have inspired and challenged humankind for generations. Using ten of the most intriguing biblical narratives and drawing on not only his own observations but those of biblical commentators throughout the ages, Dershowitz, Professor of Law at Harvard University, shows us how the flawed behavior of its protagonists led to the Ten Commandments and a deeper, richer sense of justice than any mere legal code could ever provide. © 2000

Title:BECOMING LIKE GOD: KABBALAH AND OUR ULTIMATE DESTINY

Author(s):BERG, MICHAEL

Narrator(s):JAN BURRELL

The editor of Kabbalah Magazine offers an easy-to-digest manual on becoming like God. Drawing on traditional teachings of the Kabbalah, Rabbi Berg shows readers how to overcome the ego nature, which the ancient texts name as the "desire to receive for the self alone." He says that most of us are in a jail of pain, suffering and death. Ego is the evil guard we must conquer to escape and reclaim our birthright, be like God, with an "infinite payload of health, joy, and life." The key to this jailbreak is to stop looking out for oneself and start looking out for the needs of the collective. © 2004

Author(s):APPELFELD, AHARON

Narrator(s):ASHER SUSS

Appelfeld's childhood was disrupted at age 7 when the Nazis occupied Czernowitz in 1941. He survived the ghetto, the march to a labor camp, and an escape to the forest, where he hid for the duration of the war.

Afterwards, he went to a displaced persons camp until he was able to get on a ship to Palestine. As he began a new life there, he struggled to retain his memories in spite of those who urged him to simply forget. The experiences he recounts offer personal glimpses into the themes that resonate through his award-winning fiction. Translated from Hebrew (1999) by Aloma Halter © 2004

Title:MIXED NUTS: AMERICA'S LOVE AFFAIR WITH COMEDY TEAMS FROM BURNS & ALLEN TO...

Author(s):EPSTEIN, LAWRENCE J.

Narrator(s):HOWELL MAYER

From 19th century vaudeville to radio, film, and television, comedians who perform as partners have created a particularly American type of humor. Americans have grown to depend on comedians to respond to events, make them laugh, and show that even in the worst of times, friendship and humor can help you survive. From Laurel and Hardy, the Marx Brothers, and Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance right through the Smothers Brothers and the casts of Friends and Seinfeld, Epstein looks at these classic teams through a sociological prism. © 2004

Title:ISRAELIS: ORDINARY PEOPLE IN AN EXTRAORDINARY LAND

Author(s):ROSENTHAL, DONNA

Narrator(s):LAWRENCE AVERY

A journalist depicts the diversity of ordinary Israelis as they go about their lives, portraying the dichotomies of male and female, Sephardi and Ashkenazi, religious and secular, and even Arab and Jew. She points out the paradox of ultra-Orthodox Jews assaulting immodestly dressed women in the only nation whose army drafts women, and of Ethiopian immigrants who grew up without electricity ending up high-tech jobs. In presenting this multicultural population, she dispels many stereotypes about Israel, yet she shows that Israelis from all walks of life share similar concerns about love, family, careers, and recreation as they face life's universal experiences in this unique land. © 2003

Title:MY GUARDIAN ANGEL

Author(s):WEIL, SYLVIE

Narrator(s):BETSY NEWBERRY

A fictionalized account of the Crusades in 11th century France, as described by twelve-year-old Elvina, the real-life granddaughter of the revered scholar Rashi. While Elvina prefers the intellectual pursuits usually limited to Jewish boys, she dutifully carries out the role of "woman of the house" while her mother is away. Suddenly, a knock at the door reveals Gauthier, who, like her, would rather study than do what his society expects - fight in the Crusades. In return for her assistance, he offers advance warning of the Crusaders' arrival in her town. Is it worth the risk? Will her guardian angel help?

Title:MAKING AMERICANS: JEWS AND THE BROADWAY MUSICAL

Author(s):MOST, ANDREA

Narrator(s):BEA BRESLOW

Musical theater is one of America's greatest cultural contributions, yet many of the most creative minds behind it were Jewish. Professor Most, focusing on the socio-politically tumultuous second quarter of the 20th century, analyzes how the vision of Jewish artists on Broadway influenced accepted ideas of what it means to be American - and to be a Jew in America. Using thoroughly researched examples from such shows as Annie Get Your Gun and Oklahoma!, she demonstrates how current events affected the work of the Gershwins, Rogers and Hart, and Oscar Hammerstein, among others. © 2004

INSIGHTS FROM WOMEN RABBIS ON THE 54 WEEKLY TORAH PORTIONS

Author(s):GOLDSTEIN, ELYSE, RABBI, ED.

Narrator(s):JUDITH BASES

More than 50 female rabbis offer their interpretations of the Torah, and especially of those portions that may strike the modern reader as hopelessly sexist. Some of the authors dismiss such passages as not worth following, while others try to understand these writings in a new way that will be more palatable. Midrashic texts are used to examine the stories of Biblical heroines and to explore and critique what was included or excluded. Although the contributors represent a wide variety of perspectives, they all aim to provide food for thought. © 2000

Title:TALE OF LOVE AND DARKNESS

Author(s):OZ, AMOS

Narrator(s):ASHER SUSS

Translated by Nicholas de Lange This eloquent memoir chronicles Amos Oz's childhood in the British-ruled Palestine of the 1940s and 50s, his arrival at Kibbutz Hulda and literary fame. The story he tells loops back and forth between past generations and his own lifetime, telling of the anti-Semitism and Zionistic passions that led his family to Palestine in the early 1930s, his parents' disappointments, his mother's suicide, the influences of his multi-lingual and widely read family, his literary masters, and many others whose encounters left their mark on him. It is also the story of living in a country under constant threat, rife with painful relationships between Arab and Jew.

Title:ORIENTALIST: SOLVING THE MYSTERY OF A STRANGE AND DANGEROUS LIFE

Author(s):REISS, TOM

Narrator(s):STEVE SCHREIBER

Tom Reiss spent five years tracking down secret police records, love letters, diaries and deathbed notebooks of Lev Nussimbaum, revealing a dramatic and wild life. Lev, a Jew born in 1905 to a wealthy family in Baku, escaped the Russian Revolution in a camel caravan. He transformed himself into a Muslim prince and became a best-selling author in Nazi Germany. Lev's life includes his marriage to an international heiress with no idea of his real identity until he's exposed by a tabloid scandal, his friendship with George Sylvester Viereck, who was arrested as the leading Nazi agent in the U.S, and an invitation to be Mussolini's official biographer - until the Fascists discovered his origins. Lev wrote his last book under house arrest, helped by a mysterious half-German salon hostess, a weapons smuggler, and the poet Ezra Pound. This remarkable history and biography reads like a novel.

Title:GENIZAH AT THE HOUSE OF SHEPHER

Author(s):YELLIN, TAMAR

Narrator(s):BARBARA FERBER

Shulamit, a British biblical scholar, returns to Jerusalem to say goodbye to her family home, which is to be torn down in the name of progress. She gets entangled in a family feud over possession of the Codex, a 13th Century handwritten manuscript, when Uncle Saul, who runs the house, assumes that she has come for the Codex. She learns how precious this manuscript is when she is followed by a religious fanatic who claims to be from the tribe of Dan and commissioned with the task of returning the Codex to its rightful owner. While unraveling the mystery of the Codex, she uncovers the life of great-grandfather Shalom, who left a wife in Vilna, started a new family in Jerusalem, and eventually set off in search of the Ten Lost Tribes of Israel . Myth, mystery and history combine to give the flavor of Jerusalem neighborhoods through the modern era. © 2005

Title:GI JEWS: HOW WORLD WAR II CHANGED A GENERATION

Author(s):MOORE, DEBORAH DASH

Narrator(s):WIN ROBBINS

In this study of Jewish soldiers in the U.S. armed forces during WWII, Moore relies on memoirs and oral interviews of 15 veterans to show how these soldiers had to contend with anti-Semitism, stereotyping of Jews, and the reality of their Jewish identity, which many took for granted, having grown up in areas with many other Jews. She also notes that many of the anti-Semitic soldiers were also racist, thus sowing seeds for the black-Jewish alliance of the 1960s.

Title:DESIGNATED HEBREW: THE RON BLOMBERG STORY

Author(s):BLOMBERG, RON; SCHLOSSBERG, DAN

Narrator(s):HOWELL MAYER

Ron Blomberg, who played for the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox during his eight seasons in the major leagues, only made it to Cooperstown's Baseball Hall of Fame quite by accident; he was the first designated hitter in history. He also holds the distinction of being the first Jewish Yankee to become a star. Although in the beginning of his career he was billed as "the next Mickey Mantle," he was unsuccessful on the field due to many injuries and unpopular in the clubhouse because of his popularity with the press (which caused jealousy among his teammates) and the unfamiliarity of his teammates with his Jewish religion. Despite that, he had a loyal legion of fans in New York City's Jewish population; they rallied around him from day one.

Title:SUITE FRANCAISE: A NOVEL

Author(s):NEMIROVSKY, IRENE

Narrator(s):KATHY FORD

Irene Nemirovsky, a Ukranian immigrant to France, was an author of bestselling fiction in pre-WWII France. She composed this novel about German occupied France in the early 1940's, but was not able to complete it before being deported to Auschwitz where she died. The manuscript was kept by her daughters who later discovered that it was a novel. These are the first two of what was intended to be a five-part novel. The first part, "A Storm in June" tells of Parisians who flee Paris in 1940 just before the Nazi invasion who previously had nothing in common are brought together by a shared attempt to survive in a world that is falling apart. The second part, "Dolce" tells how a farming village is able to co-exist with the occupying German forces.

Title:HIDDEN CHILD

Author(s):MILMAN, ISAAC

Narrator(s):BERGMAN, RICHARD

This biography focuses on a young person hidden during the Holocaust--but this child survived. The author tells his own story. His family fled from Poland to France before the war, but after the German invasion, his parents were taken away. A woman, Hena, found him, then age nine, sitting on a Paris sidewalk. She took him in, and concealed his and her own Jewish identity. Despite the horror of losing most of his family, the author expresses his gratitude for his salvation and his eventual adoption by an American Jewish family at age 15. An inspiring and powerful view of this tragic period in human history.

Title:MATZOH BALL GUMBO: CULINARY TALES OF THE JEWISH SOUTH

Author(s):FERRIS, MARCIE COHEN

Narrator(s):MEGAN OWEN

Anthropological historian Ferris uncovers many dishes that blend Jewish and Southern foodways (recipes included). Ferris sees food as a symbol that encompasses the problem of how Jews live in a region dominated by Christians. Cynics will wonder if a Jewish kugel prepared in the South is any different from kugel in Chicago. Ferris's answer is an emphatic yes-because Jews in the South face different challenges than those in Chicago. Southern Jews must be more intentional about cooking that kugel and passing the recipe down from generation to generation.

Title:DEAN AND ME: A LOVE STORY

Author(s):LEWIS, JERRY: KAPLAN, JAMES

Narrator(s):TIM ZAGIN

Over the course of their 10-year partnership, Lewis and Dean Martin made 16 wildly popular movies but their real strength was their performances in nightclubs, theaters and on television. Lewis wants to give his late partner the credit he feels critics missed. Lewis is a wonderful raconteur, and his tales capture the excitement of their budding career and the slow, sad erosion of the fun. Readers will be surprised and entertained by Lewis's honesty and diminished ego and bitterness.

Title:KISS ME LIKE A STRANGER: MY SEARCH FOR LOVE AND ART

Author(s):WILDER, GENE

Narrator(s):HOWELL MAYER

The man who created some of the funniest moments in film history talks about acting, adultery, and death in this intimate memoir. Honesty is a prevailing quality of this book, as Wilder freely discusses topics ranging from his own neuroses to the drug-fueled misbehavior of his great comedic partner, Richard Pryor. He also doesn't avoid telling the details of his own bout with non-Hodgkin's lymphoma. Wilder clearly isn't interested in writing a conventional Hollywood memoir. His book candidly explores his own faults and feelings, as well as those of the people he's loved and lost.
